Design and harmony

The state of the art Ocean Dreams spas come with stainless steel accessories which perfectly match all of the key spa shell colours in this range. Full of harmony and elegance, this range does not lose sight of technology and embraces the idea of meticulous design to take maximum advantage of the therapeutic effects of hydrotherapy and its relaxing properties.

Ocean Dreams spas are constructed using a metal interior instead of a wooden structure that is common with most brands. Its 4mm ABS base makes it totally damp proof. All spas undergo exhaustive quality control checks to ensure that your new spa reaches you in the best possible condition.

Enjoy the pleasure of total wellbeing

Our new range of spas incorporates the latest technological advances. There is a resistant interior metal structure, instead of the wooden structure common to most brands. Its 4-mm thick ABS base makes it totally damp-proof. All spas undergo exhaustive quality controls, which ensures that products reach you in the best possible condition.

Hydrotherapy, a matter of health...

We have known about the positive effects of hydrotherapy on our health for centuries. The relaxation and pleasure felt when enjoying hydrotherapy is achieved thanks to the natural properties of the water. That is the magic of spas. The water jets give a comforting massage to your muscles, your skin benefits from a firming effect, your body temperature rises slightly, blood circulation is reactivated and your muscles relax. Its an endless list of benefits that help to relieve muscle pain and stress that builds up throughout the day. After a hard and stressful day, treat yourself to 15 minutes of wellbeing in an Ocean Dreams spa!

Our company, based in premises of 7000m², has a significant production capacity. We have invested heavily in the very latest technology so that we can offer our customers the highest quality and performance.

We have automated thermoforming techniques which enable us to produce large spas such as swim spas.

The use of automated robots ensures the greatest degree of accuracy at the cutting stage.

All of the electronic components undergo meticulous controls in our fast test station to guarantee total reliability.

At the end of the production process, the spas are checked and tested to ensure that all product functions comply with standard requirements. Every item is checked again, one by one, by our Quality Control Department before packaging.

This attention to detail ensures that you receive your spa in perfect condition and are able to sit back and enjoy total piece of mind with your new Ocean Dreams spa.

A spa for life

The ACRYLIC SHELL is reinforced with a layer of non-breakable, anti-osmosis resin, two layers of high resistance polyester and a final layer of polyurethane to maintain the desired temperature for as long as possible.

Crystalline water

The OZONE GENERATOR releases millions of tiny bubbles in the water with a high concentration of ozone that makes the water balance last longer, which reduces the cost of maintaining the spa and the number of times the water has to be changed.

Programmed to be used at any time

The HEATING SYSTEM is equipped with various fail-safe function modes.

The CONTROL SYSTEM is designed to make it easy for users to handle.

Made of the best materials

The interior structure is made of stainless steel to guarantee an unbeatable level of resistance.
